

Warehouse Operator

Do you have an affinity for logistics? Are you accurate, flexible, and proactive? Would you like to work full-time in a dynamic logistics company? Then you may be the new Warehouse Operator we are looking for to strengthen our team!

As a Warehouse Operator, you are responsible for receiving, checking, and storing goods, as well as picking and preparing orders for shipment. You ensure an efficient and organized warehouse by correctly processing inbound and outbound goods flows and using internal transport equipment. In addition, you maintain inventory accuracy, identify discrepancies, and work according to applicable safety and quality standards. Working closely with colleagues and maintaining a high level of accuracy are key aspects of this role.

What will you do?

Inbound Operations

- Unloading trucks and containers, both manually and with equipment such as conveyor belts;
- Checking quantities, item numbers, and any damage or irregularities;
- Booking and registering incoming goods in the Warehouse Management System (WMS);
- Sorting incoming items and storing them logically and neatly in shelving locations.

Order Processing & Production (Outbound)

- Picking orders from shelving locations using a handheld scanner;
- Moving goods and pallets within the warehouse using a manual pallet truck;
- Performing packaging activities such as repacking, stickering, labeling, sealing, and strapping products;
- Conducting quality checks on picked orders before final shipment;
- Preparing orders for dispatch, including weighing and stacking goods on pallets or other shipping units.

Warehouse Management & Safety

- Keeping your workspace and the warehouse clean and organized;
- Identifying inventory discrepancies;
- Performing periodic inventory counts;
- Separating waste streams, including collecting and disposing of cardboard, plastic, and wood.

Working hours: Monday through Friday, from 08:00 AM to 05:00 PM.
